

TREATMENT OF VETERAN

Men and women get trapped into the military with all kinds of promises of everything from college educatoions to large payments at the end of their service to mankind and protecting Americans freedom and other bright enrichments. Before that men only were drafted into the military with two promises, either a honorable or dishonorable discharge and enough money to almost get a college education if they were penny pinchers or could get another job and keep up their grades. They wee pounded with the idea they were protecting the American Constitution therefore guaranteeing their future rights under that piece of paper and not have to worry about being safe in their homes and secure in their jobs. Between the idea of paying for military service and when it was strictly volunteer or men were drafted everything changed not only in the military but in civilian life look about and see what a change this country has undergone. HOW DID THIS ALL HAPPEN.

I could write a book about what has happened, about thousands have been written and nothing has changed. That must mean we read books and do nothing. But just a few remarks about the whole truth might have been glanced at by someone somewhere.

WAR why fight “em. So rich folks can get richer that’s why. Let’s look back. No use mentioning the war for independence. That started the whole thing. That is when men of “Great Wisdom” started running the country. The next little conflict was just that the war of 1812. The great America just found a “Hero” and as song and got out. Not much money involved here. About this time the Northern States were having trouble finding workers to work in their “factories” and needed help bad. They found just what they were looking for in the Black tribes of the Continent of Africa. They contacted the European Slave Traders and bought some help. The only trouble was the Black folks couldn’t stand the cold nor could not be trained fast enough and looked for buyers to sell these Black folks too for a nice profit. A man named Whitney had messed up the cotton business by inventing the Cotton Gin and the white big landowners straightened out the mess by buying the Black Skinned dumb bells from the Yankee traders. The Black skinned folks had a much better life downs South. The big land owners treaded them very well thank you. No man in his right mind would not take good care of his workers. Tales of whipping and other brutal methods of discipline are not true. That would have been stupid. When I was about 17 or 18 years old I would deliver grocers to a very old couple that knew how Negroes were treated and they told very interesting stories as youngsters in Negro upbringing. Later a Negro Principal told of how Black Education developed.

After the great war of emancipation and everything settled down, there was great unrest that developed in Europe. A probable set up killing of a high official of a minor country happened and it was not long before the U.S. was involved in the first of the great wars for freedom. Many American men of lesser rank in the rank were killed or crippled. But that was alright because it was for a very good cause. It made the rich much more rich and set up the elite in known ranks of importance. Now we could move on but lo and behold money got unbalanced and some got control of great wealth like the Kennedy Family and a great depression came along. A great change in the money took place and many Federal programs were started but none seemed to work so another war was needed to straighten out the mess so the new rich got richer they did not serve their country but made great heroes out of some that did.

Well the cycle kept up with the Korean Conflict. The Viet Nam mess, the First Dust Bowl, so George Bush the elder could help His friends. Little George with Dust Bowl number two because Saddam tried to kill his dad and now way off in the mountains of Afghanistan or something like that somewhere that has no known reason for our young men and women to die or be crippled for life, except for money so the rich can get richer.

And the cycle will not end until American citizens wise up and put a stop to wasteful spending by congress to repay people they owe. THESE FEW LINES WERE WRITTEN TO SAY THAT IN SPITE OF AL THE BOOKS AND LINES WRITTENAND SPOKEN THEY WERE SIMPLY THIS IT' IS A RICH MAN'S WAR AND A POOR MAN'S FIGHT AND THE RICH ALWAYS START THE WAR'S. TO STOP THIS MESS THE AVERAGE AND BELOW AVERAGE MEN AND WOMEN HAVE TO SAY"HELL NO WE WONT GO" AND MEAN IT.
